DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-13, 23-28, drawn to methods of bioagent identification, particularly for tracking biowarfare situations, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - II. Claims 14-22, drawn to genotyping a bioagent, classified in class 435, subclass 91.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions in Group I and in Group II are directed to related processes. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions are not obvious variants since the bioagent identification methods are drawn to methods involved in tracking and identifying bioagents while the genotyping methods are involved in determining the SNPs or other variations within the specific sequence of interest. Thus, the goals and effects of the methods are different and there is no relationship between the two methods.
3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Further, the search for the methods and the art applied may differ since a search for Group I will require consideration of the preamble limitation of terrorism and biowarfare while the Group II method will have to address genotyping methods. There is a significant difference in the prior art that would be applied to the two groups, since PCR methods used in forensic identification would be applicable to Group I but not Group II, for example, while SSCP methods might apply to Group II but not Group I.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
